Mohr Is Given Three To Six Years In Prison

Sentence Passed In 'Mercy Slaying' Case At Allentown

(BULLETIN)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 10.—(INS)—Harold A. Mohr, 36-year-old tannery worker, today was sentenced to three to six years in the Lehigh county prison for the so-called mercy-slaying of his brother.

Mohr was convicted of voluntary manslaughter last Friday by a jury which recommended mercy. He had been liable to a maximum term of 12 years.

The commonwealth charged he had "stepped into the shoes of God" by fatally shooting the brother, Walter, a blind cancer patient. In addition to the jail term, Judge James F. Henninger also imposed a $500 fine.

The jurist commented that in recommending mercy, the jury of eight men and four women apparently decided that Mohr killed his brother out of sympathy for his condition.

Harry P. Creveling, chief defense attorney, responded in answer to a query by Judge Henninger:

Nothing To Say

"We have nothing to say," And Mohr, who received the sentence with the same calmness he displayed during the trial, nodded agreement.

Creveling had attempted to show during the five-day trial that Mohr was "temporarily legally insane" when his brother was shot in the back at their home in nearby Coplay.

District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch contended Harold had killed Walter because the latter's illness had become a burden to him.

Both attorneys insisted during the trial, however, that the case was not a "mercy killing."

Creveling, however, referred to the victim as the "faceless man of Coplay" because of the ravages of cancer.

In two other recent so-called "mercy" slayings, both defendants were freed. They were Carol Ann Paigh, accused of killing her father, and Dr. Herman N. Sander, charged with injecting air into a woman patient's veins.

Weather forecasts issued for Easter in the New Castle area sort of went amiss. It was rather cold in the morning, but the day was an ideal one, aside from that feature. There was no rain or snow, and the sun was shining the greater part of the day.

Rather an unusual Easter feature was noted in a front yard on Leasure, Sunday. Some one had decorated a number of bushes in the yard with colored Easter eggs.

With the winter apparently concluded, the State Highway department has removed the snow fences, and it is noted that quite a large supply of ashes which were stocked along the highways in preparation for ashing, has not been needed, giving a good start for next winter's needs.

Some decorative flower beds are apparently being planned in the front lawn at the new city hall at Jefferson and Grant streets. Noted the city forester at work on preparing the beauty spots during the past few days.

Groups of fishermen were noted out along the fishing streams Sunday, evidently doing some scouting work preparatory to the official opening of the trout fishing season soon.

U.S. SUB COMPLETES NEW RECORD

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The U. S. Snorkel-type submarine Pickrel, shown, (above) entering Pearl Harbor, has set a new record for underwater operations by traveling submerged 5,200 miles from Hong Kong to Pearl Harbor, Navy announced. Sub remained submerged for 21 days.

New Underwater Record Is Reported By American Sub

PEARL HARBOR, April 10.—(INS)—Commander Paul Schratz said today his submarine could have traveled even farther than its record breaking 5,200 miles without surfacing had it carried more fuel. Schratz' craft, the USS Pickrel, went all the way from Hong Kong to Pearl Harbor without coming to the surface. It was the longest distance ever traveled by an American submarine entirely underwater.

The 34-year-old commander termed the 21-day trip "completely routine." If the sub had taken aboard a full load of fuel, he said, it could have gone even longer without surfacing.

Schatz described the long cruise as "the most comfortable trip I've ever made." He added: "It was like driving into town on the left side of the road when there is no traffic."

Tests Theories

The navy permitted Schratz to make the trip to test some of the theories of submerged navigation he worked out during his eight wartime patrols. Underwater navigation was accomplished by use of Loran, and the commander re-

Sensational Turn To Probe Brooklyn Gambling Rackets Probe On

NEW YORK, April 10.—(INS)—A special grand jury investigation of Brooklyn's gambling rackets took a sensational turn today with disclosure that three men arrested in the inquiry had police "pay off" lists in their pockets.

Chief investigators implied but did not specifically state that they will run down suspicions of a neat tie-up between police protectors and gamblers.

Julius Helfand, Kings County Assistant District Attorney in charge of the anti-gambling investigation, said the arrested trio also possessed the confidential license plate numbers of cars belonging to the investigating squad.

Helfand explained that the arrest of the three, all with long criminal records, had other "police ramifications" which he said could not be disclosed for the present.

The three men were identified as James Amarante, 38; James Casese, 39; and Charles Depietro, 47, all of Brooklyn.

Compromise On Rent Control Offered To Prevent Scuttling

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(INS)—Rep. Spence (D. Ky., co-sponsor of the rent control law, offered a compromise today to prevent scuttling of all federal rent regulation.

Federal rent controls are due to expire June 30 and key leaders in Congress say privately that the law stands only a slim chance of being continued. Controls have been in effect since 1942.

The chairman of the House Banking and Currency committee told International News Service that this proposal is now under consideration by the administration.

Spence, a strong administration supporter, said his proposal would leave it entirely up to the states and local communities to determine whether to continue federal controls.

U.S. Navy Patrol Bomber Hunted In Baltic Sea

FRANKFURT, April 10.—(INS)—The crew of a rescue plane searching the Baltic sea for a missing U. S. navy patrol bomber reported sighting flares today from a spot near the Danish island of Bornholm.

Bornholm is approximately 125 miles southeast of Copenhagen, destination of the four-engined B-24 Privateer which disappeared Saturday night with ten men aboard on a flight from Wiesbaden.

U. S. air force headquarters in Wiesbaden, which reported the spotting of the flares, said that 21 American planes, including two called into the search from bases as far off as Tripoli and the Azores, are continuing the hunt.

The crew which reported the flares said that weather conditions prevented a closer examination.

Schooner And Crew Of Ten Are Missing

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., April 10.—(INS)—The Coast Guard pushed a search today for the second New Bedford scalloper to disappear in a blizzard that swept Nantucket Sound.

The Coast Guard reported that despite excellent visibility, surface and aircraft failed to find a trace of the schooner Four Sisters, missing with a crew of ten. The Four Sisters vanished in the same storm in which the scalloper William Landry foundered Saturday with eight aboard.

Boston headquarters of the Coast Guard reported that five service planes had covered hundreds of square miles in the Nantucket Sound area without sighting any trace of the Four Sisters or her crew.

Fire North Of New Wilmington Sunday Evening

New Wilmington volunteer fire department was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Attle of the White Chapel Church road, some miles north of New Wilmington, to put out a fire at five o'clock Sunday evening.

Fire began in an annex to the kitchen and was put out before much damage was done to the main part of the house. Defective wiring was the probable cause of the blaze. Total damage was estimated at $600 to $700.

The Attle's were not at home at the time of the fire and neighbors discovered the blaze and called the fire department.

National Party Leaders Watch Illinois Election

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 10.—National party leaders are watching Illinois today for political trends in Tuesday's state-wide primary election, the first of the 1950 campaign.

Voters of Illinois will nominate party slates for a United States Senate and 26 House seats. It is the first state-wide test of party strength this year. Many national issues are being tested in individual races within each party. The size of each party's total vote should be significant.

The posts will be filled at next November's election. The Senate seat now is held by Sen. Scott Lucas, majority leader of the Senate. He has no opposition in his primary.

Upper Midwest Ice Storms Do Heavy Damage

Many Towns Are Virtually Isolated Result Of Storms

(By International News Service)

More than 60 towns were reported isolated today by an Easter Day storm that battered the upper midwest, coating vast areas with ice and bringing traffic to a virtual standstill in many places.

No deaths were reported despite many bad traffic accidents.

The Easter Day storm was caused by a mass of cold air that rolled down from Canada early yesterday, grounding planes, delaying trains and making highway driving hazardous.

Hardest Hit

Hardest hit were northeastern Iowa and northern Illinois, where power lines were snapped by the sleet, isolating many communities.

A severe blizzard raged throughout the night in Montana, Minnesota and the Dakotas. Dust storms were blowing in Kansas, heavy winds were reported in Colorado.

The weather bureau offered no immediate relief, although temperatures were expected to rise considerably today.

In Iowa, the only means of communication between Clinton and Davenport, 35 miles distant, was by radio.

David E. Chapman, amateur radio operator of Lombard, Ill., reported that communities in the area of Clinton, Cedar Rapids and Boone in Iowa were completely isolated by the ice storm.

Power Lines Down

Police at Clinton, Ia., reported that at least 70 per cent of the power lines in that area were snapped by the storm. Many trees were down blocking highways.

Iowa residents described the ice storms as the worst in memory. Power company officials said the damage off the storm would require several days to repair.

At least 35 towns in Iowa were reported isolated.

In Illinois, Princeton and Ohio were cut off. Residents of Rock Falls and Sterling were warned to keep off the streets because of fallen power lines. Morris was without electric power for 11 hours and water and heat supplies were disrupted. Mendota, a town of 4,200 population, was forced to re-

Bridges Will Be Sentenced

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—(INS)—CIO Longshoremen's President Harry Bridges comes up for sentencing today on his conviction of fraudulently concealing Communist party membership when he was granted American citizenship.

Bridges' two convicted co-defendants, Henry Schmidt and J. R. Robertson, are to stand with him before Federal Judge George B. Harris to hear their sentences.

Each is liable to a maximum of seven years' imprisonment and a $15,000 fine. Probation is the minimum penalty provided by the naturalization law under which they were found guilty by a San Francisco federal court jury last Tuesday.

In addition, the Australian-born Bridges, who was convicted specifically of perjury and conspiracy, faces possible immediate revocation of the U. S. citizenship he acquired in 1945 when he swore under oath he was not a Communist.

World Of Thousand
Keys Collapses
About His Shoulders

NEW YORK, April 10.—(INS)—The world of Thousand Keys Adler has collapsed about his shoulders. He's in jail. He faces charges of burglary, possession of burglary tools, possession of a gun, and parole violation.

As a three times loser under the Baumes law he faces certain long-term imprisonment if convicted, and possibly life.

But what are these things compared to his terrible shame? Harry Adler, who is 42 and whose name has been on police books for 27 years, is a broken man. He is down to 46 keys.

Some men need money to bolster their ego. Others cultivate the love of women. With the skinny unimpressive Adler it's both. And the index to his success in the two spheres is keys.

Adler's Technique
Police say Adler's technique is to pick up servant girls and make love to them. Then he borrows the keys to their household and copies them preliminarily to burgling the place.

The high point of his career came when he was arrested on burglary charges in 1940. Then police found 1,000 keys in his room which he swore he got from loving servant girls.

Fate mocks a beaten man. Else how to explain his arrest yesterday.

Detectives John Duffy and High Fox were canvassing Harlem shopkeepers in a search for "Willie the Actor" Sutton, one of the "ten most wanted criminals."

They struck pay dirt in a tailor shop where the owner told them a man resembling Slick Willie had left two suits for pressing five minutes ago. The tailor had no address to go on and the two detectives settled down for a long wait.

A short time later a young woman entered the place and claimed the suits. She was trailed to Adler's room.

Police said Thousand Keys resembled one million other guys more than Sutton, but they decided to question him anyway.

NATIONAL PARTY
LEADERS WATCH
ILLINOIS ELECTION

House before retiring two years ago, will win the Republican nomination against minor opposition.

May Defeat Lucas
Many Republicans believe Dirksen will defeat Lucas in November but this view is rejected by Democrat chieftains.

The Republicans now hold a majority of the 26 House seats, 14 against 12 Democrats. The GOP may well pick up a few seats lost downstate in President Truman's 1948 victory but have only mild hopes of breaking into the solid Democrat hold on Chicago.

There are two vacancies. One is in the fifth Chicago district, due to the death of Democrat Martin Gorski last December. It seems certain a Democrat will succeed him.

Party leaders are more concerned over development of a statewide trend for or against the Truman administration. This is the year the Republicans really expect to bring Illinois back into the GOP column.

It has been a long time since Illinois gave its electoral vote to a Republican presidential nominee. Former President Herbert Hoover carried it by 400,000 in 1928 and ever since then Illinois has gone Democrat in national elections. The late President Roosevelt carried it by 33,000 in 1948.

And if there's any sign of a trend Tuesday, both Democrats and Republicans will note it.

The 75 crewmen had an easy time of it, Schratz said, except they became excited near the end when it was apparent they were about to set a record. Exercise for crewmen was limited to card playing and two movies a day.

Only trouble, the commander said came from a balky refrigerator which caused some loss of food.

EASY SPENDING

One of the greatest dangers threatening the American people is the possibility they will become reconciled to increasing taxation to the point that they will meekly accept any and all new levies regardless of the increasing burden.

As the public loses its natural inclination to fight against rising taxes, either because of lack of leadership or in a spirit of numb hopelessness, the free spenders take advantage of the situation and come forward with ever increasing demands upon the public purse.

It is amazing how many schemes the easy-come-easy-go boys can think up with which call for additional taxes. In control of any branch of government, from federal to municipal, they appear to have no thought of cost. It's all very wonderful, and gives the free spenders of other people's money a fine chance to bask in the limelight.

The free spenders will continue to play the taxpayers for suckers until they unite to put an end to governmental foolishness.

THE PEACE OF INDIA

The peace of the world may depend on the peace of India. If so, the meeting of the prime ministers of India and Pakistan may affect the future of the world. If India's new government fails to satisfy her people, the communists will have a good chance of duplicating their victory in China. And with India as well as China gone communist, the remainder of Asia is sure to follow.

But the main threat to India today is not communism. It is war with Pakistan. Unless the two newly freed countries can put an end to communal riots, solve their dispute over Kashmir, and engage in cooperative trade, war between them may be the only hop of starving off anarchy.

The Moslems of Pakistan are not good at compromise. The Hindus of India, through the act of an extremist group, have the blood of Gandhi on their hands. National and group antagonisms run high. Bad feeling prevents economic cooperation, which in turn makes both nations poorer and adds to bad feeling.

But there are a few signs of progress. India has agreed to buy some Pakistani jute. The question of water rights is being approached with less emotion now. The dispute over Kashmir is still deadlocked, but it has lasted so long now that both sides must be getting tired of it—perhaps enough to see reason.

Both sides have far more to gain than to lose by compromise. It remains to be seen whether the "wisdom of the East" will face this reality and set the war-torn West a needed example.

LEADING FROM STRENGTH?

Too much stress could hardly be placed on the just-made public testimony given some weeks ago before the House Appropriations Committee by John J. McCloy, United States high commissioner in Germany.

"It is not a sense of inferiority or fear of attack that leads the Russians to put all this pressure on the West," he said, "to build up vast armies, air fleets and submarine squadrons; and to carry on their purges and their so-called trials, their slave labor programs, and their mighty propaganda efforts in Germany. They are putting on the pressure, in my judgement, because they feel their strength and the immediate hope of success."

This is a paragraph packed full of meaning. Most Americans realize that the United States and Russia are engaged in a desperate chess game—no less desperate because it is bloodless—in which bluff and threat and actual menace are the pawns and pieces. But it has been assumed that the Russians were more fearful than confident, and therefore more on the defensive than the offensive.

Mr. McCloy says they are leading from what they consider their strength rather than weakness.

The danger in this Russian psychology is that they may try, sooner or later, some maneuver they mistakenly consider safe—but a maneuver that U. S. policy-makers will not dare to let go unchallenged. The result could be a clash that would find both sides too deeply involved to extricate themselves.

Apparently no such clash need be anticipated soon. But Mr. McCloy's quoted remarks create the impression that the Russians will deliver the stroke they have in mind when and if they can make it count.

Comes the next great Yangtze river flood in China and what is the new Red government there going to do about it? Declare it subversive and honeycombed with capitalist influence?

Comforting thought: if the H-Bomb knocks civilization cocoon, the new apemen will find our subways mighty convenient as ready-made caves.

Mah jong, we read, is coming back in style. Here's a chance for old timers to get even with the youngsters who've been licking them to a frazzle at canasta.

Fear European Crisis Near

Yugoslavia's renewed charge that Soviet Russia is planning some positive action against Marshal Tito's firm refusal to obey orders from Moscow has aroused grave fears of another European crisis in the near future.

The allegation was made by Vladimir Dedijer, an official spokesman for the Yugoslav government.

It followed a speech in Budapest by Soviet Marshal Klement Voroshilov, who said that Tito is plotting against Soviet Russia and eastern Europe and called upon the Yugoslav people to unseat their leader.

Gives No Details

Dedijer would give no details. But he claimed to have definite information concerning some Russian move and he said:

"They always accuse us of attempting to do something they are planning to do themselves."

Reports have been current for months that Tito might well see a Soviet-inspired crisis in Yugoslavia. This might take the form of guerrilla attacks from the satellite nation frontiers or an attempt to assassinate Tito.

The Marshal in all his recent speeches has stressed Yugoslavia's non-aggressive preparedness and declared that if the people remain alert and vigorous, the nation has nothing to fear.

The fact of the matter is, however, that Moscow is badly in need of a diplomatic or other victory.

The gradual loss of Communist power and prestige in Europe somehow seems curiously highlighted by the Good Friday passion play presented in the town of Sezze, 50 miles from Rome. It attracted thousands of visitors who were immediately struck by the fact that Sezze for years has been overwhelmingly Communist.

Revive Spectacle

Yet the townspeople, led by a duly-elected Communist mayor, decided to revive the Italian version of the Oberammergau spectacle which they were forced to abandon a decade ago because of the war. Before that it had been a tradition for seven centuries.

Inquiries among the people brought out clearly that the passion play is a religious matter, having nothing to do with politics. Yet militant communism embraces atheism. And Pope Pius has excommunicated communism as a whole and all Communists who contribute in any active manner toward furtherance of the movement.

Coincident with this, American military air moved toward the shores of Italy. The government seemed certain that by preservation of secrecy regarding points of debarkation, the supplies can be landed without any Communist interference.

Such action never has baffled crafty Communist action squads in the past. It seems very likely that the Communists no longer are strong enough in Italy to interfere with such matters by sheer force.

Significant Corollary

And in France, there is an interesting and significant corollary. The French Communist party has just completed its 12th annual congress.

Many spirited resolutions were adopted, including one pledging the party's 700 thousand members "to intensify action against the transport, handling and manufacture of arms," particularly as regards the arrival of American military aid and the shipment of equipment to Indo-China.

But beneath the surface there were definite signs that the organization is dwindling in strength. It has lost many thousands of members since the time of France's liberation from the Nazis, when it numbered a million.

Circulation of the Communist press has dropped tremendously. In the last elections, the Communists polled 5 million votes. But the total daily sale of Communist newspapers now is only a million and a half.

In view of the unfavorable outlooks in France and Italy and reports of rising dissatisfaction in the satellite countries, international observers expect some bold stroke by the Kremlin to bring stragglers back into line.

Yugoslavia somehow seems the logical place even though Tito seems sure of his position. It is simply that his so-called "Communist Nationalism" is a factor mortally dangerous to Soviet Russia's future plans everywhere. There seems to be at least an even chance that some attempt will be made to eliminate him.

One Man's Opinion

(By International News Service)

The Easter parade was the biggest in years. Not everyone had time for church but most people seemed to have time to walk.

It was a wonderful day and I hope no one was so thoughtless as to send Secretary Brannan a chocolate egg.

He's gotten so that when a waitress asks "how will you have your eggs?" he says "powdered, of course."

There was one suggestion that because of the egg surplus children be encouraged to throw them, rather than roll them on the White House lawn.

That would release 10 more chickens for active service in the surplus squadron.

The president stayed in Florida. Had a little bacon. No eggs, no potatoes.

But tomorrow he'll be back at the helm. If he can find the ship.

BEIGRADE—Marshal Tito: "I don't think there is any immediate danger of war. The cold war can only last a year or two more."

From Me To You

By MESEALL

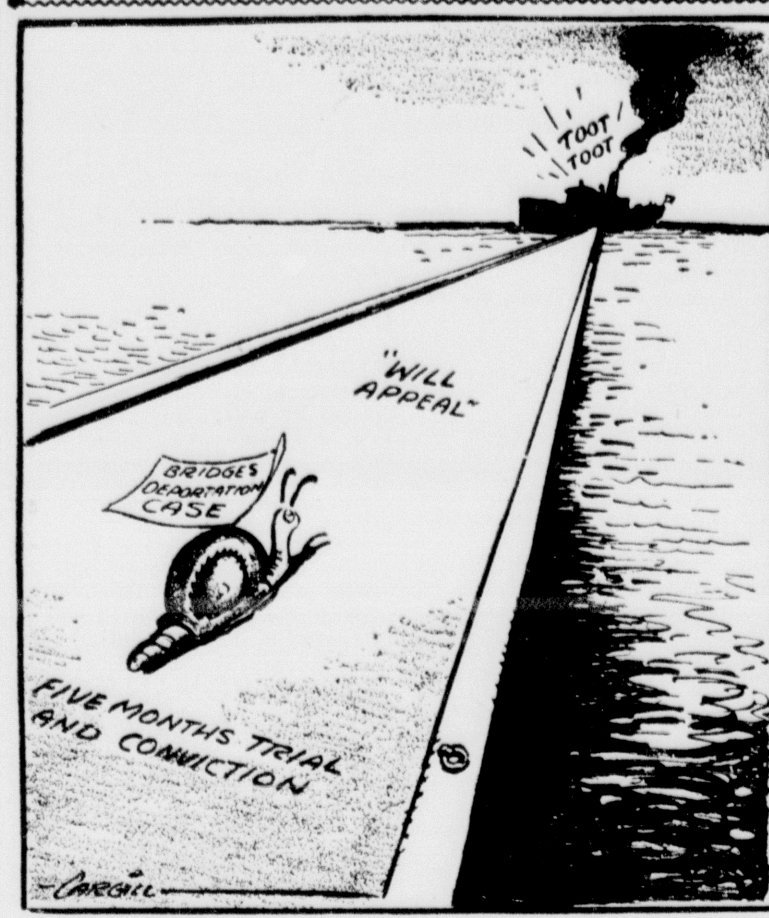

It was so very pleasing to see so many people out yesterday . . . from early morning until well in the afternoon citizens of this community traveled to the church of their choice. Yes, a nice Easter Day was observed in New Castle and Lawrence County.

It was the habit of some people to attend church only on Easter but each year we find more and more of these creatures of habit . . . breaking the habit and attending their church other days of the year . . . some even have formed a habit of attending almost every service at their church . . . And they find that it gives them a great lift . . . that life seems more real and worthwhile. Yes, faith . . . is needed by all.

Now we set our course for Spring . . . and Summer . . . not many more school days . . . boys and girls are looking forward to camping . . . Mother and Dad wonder if a vacation will work out this year . . . Oh, well, it's not the first year we stayed at home . . . had a good time too . . . And talking of good times, we enjoy nothing better than looking at automobiles . . . Unusual cars mostly . . . Sort of a nutty hobby but there are lots of books published on the topic so their must be a lot of nutty people with the same hobby.

Have you heard about the new NASH that will be announced this week . . . Clayton Bryan says that he will have a car for display come this Friday . . . and we sneaked a view at the new job . . . not the actual car but the photo that arrived from the factory. What a beauty . . . nothing like it on the road today. Not as extreme as the little car NASH showed around this Spring . . . but really a trim little boat that will carry five people . . . and at about 30 miles to the gallon . . . so the NASH people say. Sporty . . . man you just wait and see. Don't know what the "job" will sell for but it probably will be priced down with the popular Ford and Chevie class . . . Can't tell you too many details . . . but this NASH will be called the Rambler . . . After a famous car made in 1902 . . . and it will have a 100 inch wheel base. So keep your eyes open and watch and see if this new car arrives in town this week . . . you know that you will look twice and then pinch yourself to determine if you're dreaming.

'Man's Dilemma In Atomic Age'

WASHINGTON, April 10.—To many of us it must seem at times as though the solid, secure, friendly world that we have always known were disappearing as we stand by helpless. Things happen and are mirrored briefly in the headlines that a year ago or even a few months ago seemed inconceivable.

In peacetime the Atomic Energy Commission orders the burning of copies of a magazine containing an article by a distinguished physicist who says that the article told nothing not already published and on file. Almost daily there are accounts of the hundreds of thousands or million of human beings who can be sealed to death by a single atomic attack.

Indifference Prevails

What happens, I suppose, is that finally a kind of indifference prevails. You hear people say, "Oh, I can't do anything about it any way. So why even talk about it?"

The promises of security in the past were so glib. Poverty would be abolished at home by a few laws. And, of course, since we were such a superior people, living in a continent of perpetual richness destined always to be immune from the world's ills, nothing could touch us.

At the beginning of lent on Ash Wednesday Bishop Angus Dunn held a special service in Washington Cathedral that dealt with man's dilemma in the atomic age. The sermon Bishop Dunn gave on that occasion—it was more nearly a long prayer—spoke directly to the doubt in men's hearts. Those who heard it were deeply moved and many have since requested copies.

Conclusion of Prayer

There is, unfortunately, not room to give it all. But here is the conclusion to that prayer:

"Surely, God is seeking to say to us as he said to men in other times. 'Do not expect of me some easy miracle or sign that shall cost you nothing in self-sacrifice or sacrifice or repentance. There is no way to peace save the way of righteousness. I have in times past used a Godless people as the scourge of them that thought themselves Godly. Do not talk too glibly of how good it would be if only others could live by my son's sermon on the mount. Do you walk by that difficult and narrow way? This kind of devil with which you are harassed cometh out only by prayer. Have you Americans tried much prayer, you churchmen, you statesmen, you congressmen? By prayer I do not mean a kind of frightened mass-pressure on the deity to get you out of your hole. I mean the disposition of the spirit my son tried to teach you when he gave you his prayer. I mean the disposition of the heart and will which can truly say, 'Our father—father of all us—thy will be done—go yours.' Then you will be able to go on. 'Give us—all of us—our daily bread.' For you will know that to me the daily bread and the security and the freedom of all those others are just as important as the daily bread and the security and

Great Game Of Politics

Undesirable Issue Looms

WASHINGTON, April 10.

THE foreign policy of this country should have no place in the congressional campaign this year. Yet, there seems slight doubt now that it will be the chief issue. Mr. Truman himself has made that plain. With a record of almost complete failure for his domestic program in this Democratic Congress, he proposes, if he can, to convict the Republican part of sabotaging bi-partisanship and aiding the Soviets by outrageous assaults upon the State Department.

IF THE President follows his present intention of making a personal political tour of the country, speaking along these lines in his effort to keep his party in control, it means an exceedingly bitter, name-called, charges and countercharges campaign. This would not be good at any time, but in a crisis such as confronts us it hardly could be worse. Whether Mr. Truman is justified or not, some of his advisers are exceedingly dubious about the political fruits of the President's plan. There is, however, no reason to think they will be able to deter him. Since his 1948 victory, Mr. Truman's disposition is to give rather than take political advice. It is his firm, not to say cocky, conviction that in that campaign he demonstrated he knew more about politics than anyone else anywhere, any time. Considering the odds and the result, one can understand this feeling.

NEVERTHELESS, whether they started it or not, it is too much to expect the Republicans to take lying down the sort of campaign Mr. Truman seems determined to wage. To the allegation that they have wrecked the bipartisan foreign policy and to one that the State Department has been cleansed of Communists and the Democratic party has not profited by Communist support and affiliations, the Republicans have concrete and rather convincing answers. Concerning the bipartisan foreign policy, they assert that since his 1948 nomination Mr. Truman has proven himself one of the most partisan Presidents we ever had; that there never has been a bipartisan foreign policy, as the Republicans—not even Senator Vandenberg—were never kept fully informed nor consulted before policy was determined.

THEY further assert—and with considerable truth—that Mr. Truman in the last two years, instead of making it easy for Republicans to cooperate, has kicked them to the teeth every chance he had; blamed them for a lot of things they didn't do; ignored such facts as that the Taft-Hartley bill could not have become law without Democratic votes; called them names and otherwise showed himself a politician without regard for the facts. Until recently he has had no good word to say of any Republican—except Senator Vandenberg—and his gestures, such as the appointment of ex-Senator Cooper, of Kansas, are meaningless and forced. In particular, they point to his attitude toward ex-Senator John Foster Dulles in his campaign last fall against ex-Governor Lehman. If Mr. Truman, it is contended, had been sincere about the bipartisan policy he would have wanted Mr. Dulles to remain in the Senate, where he would have been worth a dozen Lehmans so far as the bipartisan policy is concerned. Instead, the Administration, with his approval, threw its full weight into the New York campaign to defeat Mr. Dulles, joined with the CIO and the Communists in abusing him like a pickpocket.

AS TO the Democratic Communist affiliation and support, it is pointed out that twice—in 1936 and in 1940—the Communist party supported the Democratic presidential ticket; that the official Communist propaganda time and again publicly urged support of the New Deal and Fair Deal on the ground that their trend is "toward our goal," which is economic chaos and the breakdown of the American system. Further, it is asserted, the Communist-dominated American Labor party, which polls upward of 400,000 votes, is essential to Democratic victory in New York; that concededly some of the largest unions of the CIO, consistently Democratic from its birth, are controlled by Communists, convicted Communist agents in the State Department were brought in under Democratic Administration, as were the large number of homosexuals, recently dismissed as "bad security risks."

ALL this does not make the Democratic party Communist-controlled nor does it make any Democratic leader Communist inclined. There is, however, plenty of proof to show that so far as the Communists are concerned they vastly prefer the Democratic party to the Republican party; that they favor Democratic rather than Republican policies; that more than once they have made possible the election of Democratic candidates; that the men through whom the Communists have worked in Washington have been New Deal Democrats, the most conspicuous of whom is Alger Hiss. All of this and more is bound to be brought out if Mr. Truman persists in making foreign policy the issue and accusing the Republicans of aiding Russia for the low purpose of catching votes. Senator McCarthy and his wild charges against Mr. Latimore and others have little to do with it. Ultimately they will be forgotten, but the facts will not—and the Republicans have a lot of facts. No one with the interest of the country at heart wants to see this kind of campaign. Perhaps the Republicans will go ahead anyhow. If they do, despite Mr. Truman's knowledge of politics, restraint and dignity rather than name-calling would seem the effective way of meeting them.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

It always amuses me when puny little Man messes around with Nature—or God, if you prefer. "Puny little Man"—that expression may hurt your feelings, if you are a six-footer or somebody very important. But even if you were twenty feet tall and ten times as important as you are, you'd still be very puny and very little if Nature went to work on you.

As I am writing this, a whole corps of people are up in the Ulster County hills of New York, trying to make a little rain.

For days and days they have been up there with their instruments and their dry ice and what not—but no man-made rain yet. If they succeed—and they may have by the time you read this—the City of New York may spend millions of dollars to make enough artificial rain so that everybody who lives in the metropolis may have his bath every Saturday night.

But, in the meantime, all over Connecticut it has been raining steadily for three days. The river that flows by our home is so high that we are getting a bit scared.

Our well is full, our grounds are nicely soaked for spring planting and summer growth.

There isn't a professional rain-maker in sight. We have used no dry ice, no instruments, no nothing.

NATURE, that greatest engineer of all, has brought us our rain.

A little while ago my wife brought the first snowdrop blossom into the house.

"Look at that wonderful little blossom," she said and pointed out the wondrous shape of the petals, the lovely green scalloping around their edges, intricate construction of that tiny flower, just out of the wintry ground.

"Isn't it strange," she said, "that with all his science and all his knowledge Man can not even create a tiny little blossom?"

No, Man can't create a blossom. He can invent airplanes and radio, telephones and skyscrapers, nation-killing bombs and giant machinery.

But he cannot produce such an insignificant little thing as a baby chick. He cannot, with all his marvelous ken, produce the tiny little seed from which great oaks or purple violets grow.

Nourse 'Assails Nation's Course

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(INS)—Government officials financing coupled with farm price supports and industrial troubles were blamed for an "unhealthy" prosperity that may lead to economic collapse.

This bleak picture was drawn by Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, who resigned last fall as chairman of the president's council of economic advisers, after a strong attack on administration economic policies.

Nourse said the nation has abandoned its course of healthy disinflation and substituted a plan of "staying fat on stolen sweets or reserves drained from the future."

In addition, he said there is an "almost frantic political effort to raise agricultural supports in order to bolster the abnormally high level of farm prices."

Young People Of Epworth Church Present Program

For the Easter night service in Epworth Methodist church a sacred drama was presented by the young people of the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

The drama, "The Man Called Jesus," was written and directed by Miss Ruth Thompson, a senior of New Castle high school and a member of the fellowship.

It was surprisingly well done, both as to the writing and the acting. Built around the life of Christ, Miss Thompson's work demonstrated appreciation of dramatic situation with lines that held the interest of the audience.

The cast included Robert Brown as narrator; Alan O'Laughlin as "Ezra," a Spic Merchant; Sally Roberts as "Joanna, his wife," Patty Dix as "Sara, their servant," Arthur McGaffie as "Caled, their son, a Roman soldier," Garnet Crain as "Mary Magdalene," George T. Richards as a trumpeter, William Hares, Lois T. Henderson and Rosanna Burgo as accomplices. Miss Lewis Pickle had charge of the lighting and staging. Ushers were John Grove, Fred Guthrie, Orest Giancola and Richard Matlocks.

The worship service preceding the drama was in charge of Edward Gilmore and George T. Richards.

Barricades For Sledriding Gone
Last hints of winter are gone with the removal of lanterns and horses from streets that had been available for sledriding.

Although the mild winter provided only a few good coasting days, the streets were in readiness at any time for the pleasure of the city's children.

Rees Flannery, New Castle recreational director, wishes to thank those who took care of the lanterns for the winter, and saw to it that residents in each block observed the safety rules during sledriding time.

First Census Brought Grief

Early Enumerators Had Troubles Also

By JOHN BOOTH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Today's census takers who think they have headaches may take a look at the tribulations of nose-counters of 160 years ago and realize they never had it so good.

To be sure the 1950 version of the census is vastly more complex than that of 1790. But no interviewee is likely to shy away because he thinks the population survey may bring on a plague of sickness.

That very thing happened in New York during the first census.

The citizens balked at answering question in those days too. So much so that the federal court at Charleston, S. C., returned presentments against six persons who refused to cooperate.

Census bureau officials think the current survey will be completed in about 30 days, or by the end of April.

Enumerators Better Paid

In 1790, Congress took note of the all but impassable roads and other transportation difficulties and allowed nine months for the job. Actually it was 18 months before the last state, South Carolina, submitted its returns.

The present-day enumerator earns somewhere between $8 and $9 a day.

His counterpart in the first census was paid $1 for every 300 persons listed in town of 5,000 or more population, $1 for every 150 names listed in country districts.

On this basis census takers in Philadelphia—then the largest city in the nation—received a total of about 149 dollars for counting its 44,444 souls. Only six cities in the whole country had more than 8,000 population.

The 17 U. S. District Marshalls who conducted the 1790 enumeration screamed loud and often to Congress for more time and better pay for their 600 assistants.

Congress was lenient with time, but it turned down all appeals for more money to pay the enumerators.

Result was that it cost the country $44,377.28, or roughly one and one-half cents a head to count a population of 3,929,625. Slaves, incidentally, were figured as three-fifths of a person for purposes of apportioning seats in the House of Representatives.

Each Citizen Costs 61 Cents

The Census Bureau estimates it will take approximately 92 million dollars to complete the inventory of the present population of about 153 millions. This figures out about 61 cents per citizen.

Today's small army of 145,000 enumerators is generously supplied with necessary forms supplied at government expense. It wasn't so a century and a half ago.

In those days each man bought and made up his own forms. Some resourceful operators bound their completed reports in colorful wallpaper or old newspapers.

But in one respect the 1790 census-taker had a decided edge.

He had only to list the name of the head of each family, his occupation, the number of free white males and females under 16, the number of such persons over 16, all other free persons in the household and the number of slaves.

In the first census it wasn't necessary to ask confused housewives such questions as: "What are your average monthly gas and electric bills?"

MINNEAPOLIS—Sometimes it's healthier to stay away from a hospital. John Lee Smith, 26, had 30 stitches taken in his head. While he was being treated, police arrived and waited outside the hospital. They arrested him for having been in a fight.

Peter Cooper was born in New York in 1781. He established large iron works in Baltimore in 1828, and in 1830 constructed the first locomotive engine built in America. He later built an iron-wire factory in New York and blast furnaces in Pennsylvania. He also promoted the laying of the Atlantic cable. To provide the working-classes with educational advantages he erected and endowed a Union bearing his name in New York. He died in New York City in 1863.

Francois Villon was born, circa 1431. It is thought in Paris. He was a noted poet, and also a leader of roistering companions and criminals. In early life he stabbed a man to death in a street brawl and was exiled later pardoned. He wrote lyrics that marked him as the most inspired poet of medieval France. The work that immortalized him was the Grand Testament. For his crimes and excesses he was condemned to be hanged, but the sentence was commuted to banishment for 10 years. One winter's day he is said to have "walked off into the unknown." No one knows how or where he died, in 1463.

Rosie is pretty. She has pink cheeks and lovely brown eyes. Her smooth skin is a delight.

Rosie's face will never be marred by smallpox scars. She has been successfully vaccinated and she is in no danger from that terrible disease.

A hundred years ago Rosie's chances were not as good. Smallpox killed thousands of people and those who did not die had ugly pits on their faces.

Vaccination protects us from smallpox. If we should neglect vaccination, it would not be very long till smallpox would be as bad as ever.

Report Census Takers About Half Way Through Their Task

Census takers in this 25th congressional district have about reached the halfway mark, according to James W. Moorehead, supervisor of census.

Some census enumerators have completed their districts and the working staff is being reduced. Other unenumerated districts are being consolidated.

Mr. Moorehead said the co-operation of citizens in this district had been excellent and stressed the fact that information given census takers will be kept confidential.

Tuesday evening, April 11, will be known as "T" or Transient Night. All transients in hotels, "Y's", missions, trailer camps and

Jane Cowl once attended a benefit performance of Hamlet in which John Barrymore was the shining star. Miss Cowl, bedecked in finery, occupied the stage box, and probably didn't realize that she was repeating many of the famous speeches in an audible voice, with appropriate gestures. To insiders' amazement, Barrymore preserved his equanimity admirably, but when he came out for his final bow, remarked sourly,

"On behalf of Miss Cowl and myself, I thank you."

A current favorite on the borscht circuit concerns the henpecked husband who was at the wheel of his not-so-merry Oldsmobile with his wife breathing an endless series of warnings and directions in his ear. Stopped by a red light, the poor fish finally turned on his tormentor and suggested, "Let's change seats. I'll ride in back and drive for a while."

Make A Geiger Counter?

NEW YORK, April 10.—Wanna make a geiger counter?

With an outlay of $32.10 you, too, can make at home a perfectly lovely geiger counter that will tell you just how much radioactivity there is in the surrounding rubble if you survive intact the A. or H-bomb tossed in your vicinity in any World War III.

The ten cents will buy you a sheet of instructions—with the blessing of the Atomic Energy Commission—from the Oak Ridge Document Sales Agency, Oak Ridge, Tenn. And the $32 left over will pay for the knick-knacks, including a geiger tube, required for the manufacture of the counter.

Examined Model

I have examined at some length the model of the home-made counter in the New York offices of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, through the courtesy of W. E. Kelley, manager of operations for the commission.

Mr. Kelley was pained by my recent treatise denouncing scientists and military men for the ghoulish pleasure with which they predict day after day the imminent destruction of New York and us harmless inhabitants by the first enemy A- or H-bomb.

Scientists and militarists may not care for New York and its population, but Uncle Sam cares, Mr. Kelley pointed out. In fact, the old gentleman ordered the AEC laboratories in New York to develop an inexpensive geiger counter for civilian use—always optimistically presuming, of course, that there will be some civilians left.

Such a counter for civilians has to have three qualities, Mr. Kelley explained. It must be (1) cheap, (2) rugged and (3) register a high degree of radioactivity.

The experimental model has all these requirements. If approved by the commission for mass production, it can doubtless be put on the market for from $10 to $15, Mr. Kelley said. Comparable geiger counters now sell for from $100 to $250.

Proud of Young Scientists

Mr. Kelley is understandably proud of three young scientists, H. D. Levine, 38; H. J. Digiovanni, 38; and M. R. Coe, 29, who replied to Uncle Sam's request for an inexpensive geiger counter for civilians by building the first working model in 48 hours.

Machinery is a baffling matter to me, but the Messrs. Kelley and Digiovanni assure me that the new counter works on the principle of the ignition system of the old model-T Ford, which may explain the whole thing to you.

It is powered by three ten-cent batteries of one and one-half volts each, making a total of four and one-half volts which the smart inventors, using the T-model ignition principle, step up to 1200 volts and then, after intermediary steps too difficult for me to grasp, feed into a geiger tube.

However, the whole thing is so simple that high school physics classes, with the ten-cent instructions from Oak Ridge and $32 in spare parts are now building counters all over the country.

The professional model, if approved by the AEC, will look like two old black cylindrical phonograph records, one above the other and three inches apart, held together with thin metal plates.

The dial face, where one looks to see how much radioactive rubble he is in, is about the size of an old dollar Ingersoll watch. This is a distinctly high-octane geiger counter, not designed for prospecting or for detecting low grade ores.

This is a gimmick with three degrees of registration: when the needle points to green on the dial face of the counter, it indicates a safe area; when the needle moves to yellow, it is time for man and beast to display caution in a radioactive area, and when it moves on to red, it is time for the owner to get the heck out on the double, according to Mr. Kelley.

Leslie Named To Insurance Post

HARRISBURG, April 10.—The appointment of former Allegheny County District Attorney Artemas C. Leslie as state insurance commissioner was announced Saturday by Gov. James H. Duff.

Leslie, who will receive $15,000 a year, succeeds Allegheny County Republican Chairman James F. Malone Jr., fired by Duff for supporting the gubernatorial campaign of Jay Cooke.

Duff, who seeks the U. S. Senate nomination, is running on a ticket offering former State Superior Court Judge John S. Fine for governor.

HIGHLAND UNION

Highland W. C. T. U. met in the home of Mrs. Walter Payne, 214 East Garfield avenue, April 6, with Mrs. E. L. Thompson as co-hostess.

Mrs. F. J. Fox presided, while Miss Mary Pattison led an inspiring devotional service. Mrs. Fox stated that H. R. Bill 2945, the postal rate bill, has passed the House with no exemption for temperance papers. Members are asked to write to their Congressmen, asking that they be exempted and to oppose H. R. Bill 2100, designed to repeal the cabaret tax on liquor.

Members are asked to send cards to Mother Moore who is ill. Her address is Mrs. Carolyn Moore, Philadelphia General Hospital, Medical, 34th and Curie Aves., Philadelphia, Pa. Miss Harriet Smith reported that cards have been sent to nine shut-ins of the union.

Mrs. Fox asked that new members be secured, as some have been lost through death and by removal to other cities.

Mrs. Walter Payne, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Mrs. F. Dickson Marshall, of the City Rescue Mission, who gave an instructive talk on "Alcohol Against Youth". Mrs. Marshall stated that the mission needs bedding, clothing, vegetables and other articles.

An institute will be conducted April 13, at Liberty Grange hall. Sam Morris expects to resume broadcasting next fall.

The yearly Y. T. C. encampment will take place July 8-15, at Newton-Hamilton. Mrs. Carl Paisley and Miss Mary Pattison were appointed to secure a representative to attend the temperance training camp at that time. Mrs. Fox would like to have at least two delegates attend the Juniata School of Alcohol Studies.

Members signed a petition, asking that the names of candidates for the Prohibition party be placed on the ballot at the coming primary.

Lunch was served by the hostesses. Mrs. Charles Miller, 141 East Garfield avenue, will entertain at her home Thursday, May 4, with Mrs. Robert L. Weber as co-hostess and Mrs. T. J. McFate as leader.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

-BOOKS ON-"BEING BORN"

There are very few parents today who don't agree that children's questions about where babies come from should be answered. Unfortunately, though, some of us were raised in a way that makes it difficult to discuss such a question with our youngsters. School and church groups may help by providing discussion for parents which makes the job of telling easier.

There are available, too, some very fine books written especially for the children and young people who are interested in the way human life begins. For the younger element Milton Levine and Jean Seligmann have prepared, "A Baby Is Born". Also, Marie Ets has written a beautifully illustrated book on "The Baby" which is suitable for the younger members of the family.

"Growing Up" by Karl deSchweinitz and "Being Born" by Frances Bruce Strain are suitable for children in the pre-teen years and a bit older. Lester Kirkendall's "Understanding Sex" is good for older youngsters.

These are not the only good books on the market. But they are ones that have been found very helpful in this important job of helping the junior partners in the family develop sound and wholesome ideas about "being born".

Bill Signed To End India Strife

NEW DELHI, April 10.—(INS)—The prime ministers of India and Pakistan have signed an agreement providing a bill of rights for minorities in their countries and including a plan to halt communal warfare.

Pakistan's premier, Liaquat Ali Khan, visited New Delhi to confer with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru on drafting the agreement which it is hoped will eliminate threats to peace between the two young states immediately after installing the agreement. Liaquat Ali left to return to his capital at Karachi.

It was said that Nehru had accepted an invitation to visit Pakistan.

A communique issued on behalf of the two statesmen said they will meet "from time to time to insure satisfactory implementation of the agreement and to resolve other common problems."

Berlin Gangster Sentenced To Die

BERLIN, April 10.—(INS)—Nineteen-year-old Werner Gladow, who calls himself Berlin's "Al Capone," was sentenced to death with two confederates for a four-year career of crime.

It embraced two murders, 15 attempted murders and 19 robberies which netted $30,000.

Eight other members of Gladow's gang were sentenced to terms ranging from five years to life. The young thugs were rounded up last summer after a gun battle in which the leader's mother allegedly loaded revolvers for her offspring and his aides.

New Epoch In Medicine Seen

Canadian Scientist Promises Wonders

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, April 10.—A new concept of medicine described as "revolutionary, exciting and ushering in a new epoch" was outlined in Chicago by its formulator, Prof. Hans Selye of the University of Montreal.

Dr. Selye, director of the institute of experimental medicine and surgery at the University of Montreal, is world-renowned for discovering, while still in his 20's, the importance of the adrenal glands in the body.

Hormone Research Advances
It was his work on hormones, first brought to the attention of medical science in journal of the American Medical Association in 1944, which touched off the research that led to the discovery of cortisone and ACTH. They are the new "miracle" drugs which have given such spectacular results in the treatment of arthritis, rheumatic fever and several other diseases.

Dr. Selye told a Chicago news conference that a vast and vital facet of medicine has been discovered as a result of hormone research.

The slight, balding 43-year-old scientist identified the new facet as stress. He explained:

"Stress can be defined as anything—a virus, running up a flight of stairs, mental tension, a wound—which causes a change in the so-called normal function of all the body organisms."

However, he observed, the body has a complicated series of defense mechanisms in the blood and nervous systems which mobilize against stress.

Hormones Regulate Defense
The roles of hormones, such as cortisone and ACTH, is to regulate the defense, according to Dr. Selye.

It is his belief that many illnesses are due to a wrong reaction by the body defense mechanism, not primarily to the presence of a pathogene—a disease causing agent.

Dr. Selye said such illnesses as heart disease, high blood pressure, kidney ailments, allergies and ulcers may in time be conquered through use of hormones.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, former editor of the AMA journal and now editor of World Medicine, attended the conference. He said:

"Dr. Selye's research has ushered in a revolutionary, exciting new epoch in medical science. It is likely that on the basis of it we can make great progress in conquering all disease."

'Buzzie' Roosevelt Becomes Engaged

LOS ANGELES, April 10.—(INS)—Curtis "Buzzie" Roosevelt, grandson of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, has announced his engagement to Los Angeles debutante Robin Edwards.

Young Roosevelt, the son of Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, was the "Buzzie" Dahl of the White House during the 1930s.

He and his sister, "Sistie" had their names changed to Roosevelt several years ago.

FLOWER GIRLS AND PAGE IN WEDDING PROCESSIONAL

"I am having a formal wedding in the early summer. The wedding party will include two flower girls and one page. Will you please tell me where they should walk in the procession?"

Answer: In the procession, the flower girls should walk behind the maid-of-honor and just in front of the bride. The page should walk behind her and hold up her train. In the recessional the page has the same duty but the flower girls usually precede the bride and groom to strew flowers in their path, as they go down the aisle.

Question: A few months ago, we arrived here in town and were welcomed immediately by our relatives, with the exception of one young couple who were absent and could not come at the time. Although we have been here three months, they have not yet visited us. Could it be that we should call on them?

Answer: They should call on you; but since they have not, why not telephone to them and invite them to see you?

Question: When an invitation does not specify "R.s.v.p." is it necessary to reply if I intend to accept?

Answer: It really should be unnecessary to insert "R.s.v.p." on any invitation, as we should readily accept or decline all invitations, especially those involving the service of food. Actually all invitations demand a reply except one to a church ceremony or to a tea. We either go to the tea or send our visiting cards. An invitation to a church ceremony requires no response whatever. If a reception invitation is included, it must be acknowledged and a gift sent.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers. Inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Farm Costs And Prices To Drop

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(INS)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics says 1950 will be the first year in almost two decades that major prices paid by farmers will decline.

The bureau warns against optimism, however, pointing out it's quite probable that prices farmers receive for their products also will continue to slide.

Prices in 1950 of most items purchased by farmers for use in production are expected to average three to four per cent lower than last year, but the bureau predicts a further drop in prices received of about 10 per cent.

The bureau says the price-cost relationship will still be favorable to farmers compared with previous years.

How Important Is This Man's "YES"?

J. J. ALEXANDER

He's the man whose "yes" helped to put an ambitious boy through medical school.

Another occasion, his friendly "yes" started a man in business and today that man's business is a growing, paying proposition.

And then there was the time his "yes" enabled a worried family to get under a stack of unpaid bills and his friendly advice put that family's budget on a sound, secure basis.

This man whose "yes" has brought peace of mind to thousands of people by helping them get a fresh start is the manager of the Personal Finance Co. office in this city.

His job is to make personal loans, and to keep the transactions on a business-like basis. His years of experience with Personal have taught him to respect the honesty of local people—friends, relatives, or employer are not brought into the picture.

Don't borrow unnecessarily. But if a loan—for a month or a year, or longer—is the sensible thing for you (and you're the judge) the YES MAN will appreciate the chance to say "yes."

You can telephone him . . . or drop in to see him at the Personal Finance Company office. He says "yes" to 4 out of 5.

BAY CITY, Mich., April 10—A Pennsylvania inventor and his associate have been awarded a judgment estimated at one million dollars from the Dow Chemical Corporation.

The judge based the damages on amount of profit since 1939 when by adopting principles of a die developed by Skinner for making metal tubes.

Garden Notes
For '50 Season

When phlox, delphinium and similar herbaceous plants show a little new growth they may be lifted, divided and replanted. This may delay their blooming date a little the first year.

By now the vegetable garden should be well dug, fitted and fertilized. If the days are getting warm, sow beets, carrots, early cabbage and cauliflower, lettuce and onions.

Early spring is the best time to transplant and divide day-lilies. Dig holes that are large enough. Spread out the roots. These lilies grow best in sunny spots. Remove all dead foliage from around old plants.

Red raspberries are easier to grow than black or purple ones. They require less space. Indian Summer for early and Taylor for late are among the best. The former bears a second crop in the fall.

Tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, beans and peas produce seed pods or fruits and feed heavily on phosphorus. Potatoes, parsnips, beets, carrots and other root crops need ample potash in the soil.

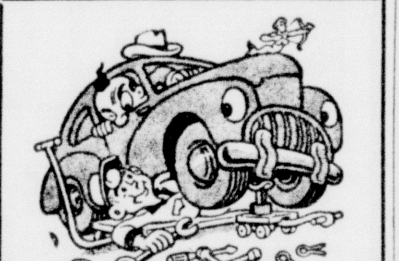

Tuberous begonias may be started in pots and flats, in order to be ready for planting outdoors in May, after the weather becomes warmer.

Too Much Talk Says Sawyer

Commerce Secretary Assails 'Red' Talk

By WILLIAM KERWIN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Commerce Secretary Sawyer declared today that the whole subject of Communism in government "has been talked about much too much."

As for his own department, Sawyer said he is convinced that Michael J. Lee, whose loyalty and qualifications have been questioned by Sen. Malone (R-Nev.), is a "loyal citizen."

At the same time, Sawyer told a news conference:

1. The business outlook for the rest of this year is "excellent."
2. The question of increased European imports to the United States should be "very carefully revised on policy and action" to minimize the impact on the domestic economy.

Satisfied With Record

The commerce secretary made it crystal clear that he is satisfied with Lee's record as chief of the department's Far Eastern branch. Malone accused Lee of holding up shipments of vital aviation gasoline to China during its battle with the Chinese Communists.

Sawyer said that if retiring Commerce Undersecretary Cornelius V. Whitney testified he would not hire Lee he disagreed with him. The commerce secretary said:

"The whole subject has been talked about much too much. . . I am more anxious than anyone else to find anyone disloyal in the government."

"If Whitney said he would not hire him (Lee) I don't agree. I have examined his record very carefully and saw nothing in it."

On the business front, Sawyer amended earlier forecasts about the uncertainty of conditions in the second six months of this year by saying that the outlook now is "excellent."

However, he declined to set a figure on the unemployment picture which, if reached, would require immediate action. He said such a figure might make people "panicky."

Dr. A. M. Stump Will Retire On April 15

Dr. A. M. Stump, former pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Grant street, is retiring effective April 15, it is announced. Dr. Stump served the local congregation for 19 years, resigning here in 1944 to accept the assignment of Institutional Pastor of the Lutheran Inner Mission Society of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Stump and his wife will move to R.D. 1, Hamilton, Ohio, where they will be near a son. The retiring minister has done an effective piece of work in the Chaplains Service Department of the church. He aided in a busy hospital visitation campaign program enabling Lutheran ministers to set up chaplaincy programs among the hospitals.

The total of Dr. Stump's service included nine years as a school teacher and 39 years as a minister. His church friends in the city will be pleased to learn of his present move.

Youth Surrenders On Shooting Charge

CINCINNATI, O., April 10.—(INS)—A 22-year-old youth surrendered to Cincinnati police Sunday after reading a newspaper account that he was wanted for the fatal shooting in Richmond, Ind., of a "perfect stranger."

The youth, Kermit Hamby of the Indiana city, told Cincinnati police he had read he was wanted for slaying Arthur Francis Pippin, 20, the innocent bystander.

Hamby admitted to police he shot Pippin for "no reason at all" in the confusion following a bar-room scuffle.

Richmond Police Chief Lucas Rohe said murder charges would be filed against Hamby.

Cincinnati police reported that Hamby, who was armed with two pistols at the time he walked into the Cincinnati police station, apparently was under the impression he had shot Cecil Rose, who was charged by Hamby with making a "smart crack" as Hamby and a girl friend left a Richmond cafe.

Rose said that as Hamby left the cafe Hamby bumped into him. Rose grabbed Hamby, and the latter drew a gun and fired a shot into the ceiling. Hamby then ran outside the cafe and bumped into Pippin and, apparently thinking that he was tussling with Rose, knocked him down and fired a shot into his head.

Will Hear Appeal Of School Teacher

PITTSBURGH, April 10.—(INS)—A United States circuit court jurist will hold a hearing tomorrow in Philadelphia on an appeal for a restraining order by a Pittsburgh high school teacher who faces dismissal because she has been accused of Communist party membership.

Judge John Biggs Jr., set the hearing for 10:30 a. m. after federal court in Pittsburgh refused to grant a restraining order requested by Dorothy Albert.

Miss Albert, an English teacher at Taylor Alderidge high school the last 18 years, was named a Communist during testimony before the House committee on un-American activities in Washington last month.

Although Miss Albert denied Communist party membership, she was suspended from her teaching post and was to be dismissed at a board of education meeting tomorrow. Her attorney has notified the board that she will not appear without counsel.

Pittsburgh Police Identify Parents Of Discarded Baby

PITTSBURGH, April 10.—(INS)—Police today identified the parents of little Miss Easter, the newborn child who was found wailing on the front porch of a nearby Carnegie home.

They were reported by police as Mrs. Mary Kapinsky, 38, of Carnegie, mother of four, and her boarder, Patrick Cunningham, 35, Carnegie. Police Chief Chris Keisinger said he would talk with Allegheny County District Attorney William S. Rahauser about charges against the couple.

Mrs. Kapinsky, reluctant to discuss the case, sobbed "I don't know," when asked if she wanted the baby.

Miss Easter, who was taken to Children's Hospital suffering from exposure, was found on the porch of Joseph Higgins Saturday.

Mrs. Kapinsky added: "I didn't want to hurt her, or anything. I just wanted to get her out of the house."
Cunningham denied that he had any part in abandoning the child.

Mrs. Kapinsky told Chief Keisinger the baby was born about 2 a. m. Saturday without medical assistance, then she carried the baby to the Higgins home about 3 a. m.

Mrs. Kapinsky said she has been separated from her husband for more than two years.

Leslie Inducted As State Commissioner

HARRISBURG, April 10.—(INS)—Two words comprised Artemas Leslie's first official utterance at a news conference today shortly after his induction as state insurance commissioner.

When asked in Gov. James H. Duff's presence whether there was any truth to reports that he would support Jay Cooke for governor over the governor's running mate, John S. Fine, Leslie replied:

"Absolutely not."

Leslie was chosen by Duff to replace James F. Malone, Jr., in the cabinet because the latter supported Cooke.

Former New Castle Man Named Mayor Of Tulsa, Oklahoma

Word has been received here that George H. Stoner, a former New Castle resident, was elected mayor of Tulsa, Okla., April 4. He defeated Attorney Harley Van Cleave, who was the Democratic nominee. Mr. Stoner is now serving his third term as commissioner of streets.

Many local residents will remember him as an old time member of the "Alley Rats" and ball player.

Mrs. Stoner is the daughter of the late John McCandless, former treasurer of the city of New Castle.

New Proposal Is Presented

Local Operation Of Hydroelectric Projects Advocated

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Sen. Watkins (R Utah, today introduced legislation calling for local operation of public hydroelectric projects by interstate associations covering whole river basins.

The Utah senator's plan would scrap government management of power and water projects after they are built.

Watkins' plan calls for the government to build projects under contracts with power and water users associations, which would operate them and make fixed payments to reimburse the government for the costs and interest.

Take Government Out

Watkins said it would take the government out of the power business—a source of constant controversy and re-establish the principle embodied in the earliest irrigation projects.

His bill would authorize interstate water and power users associations which would contract with the bureau of reclamation for construction of reclamation and power projects and the development of basin areas.

After projects are built, the government would step out of active management, into the role of a creditor collecting payments of principal and interest from the operating "grass-roots" associations until the projects are paid for.

It would open the way for user associations to take over the operation of present government-managed programs, such as central valley projects in California.

The reclamation-state senator predicted.

Can Be Repaid

"On the Columbia and Colorado rivers, I believe that the entire reimbursable costs of the full developments can be entirely repaid if the entire developments are considered in single units, or in the case of the Colorado river, two units, the upper and lower basins."

"In these projects, of course, power would be the greatest contributor."

Interstate associations would hold power receipts in trust for basin-wide developments, for repayment to the federal government of the cost of the project with interest, and for providing lower power rates to the consuming public.

After an association had paid off the cost of a project, the government would have to continue to hold legal title to projects on navigable streams, but could transfer the "equitable title" to the operating associations.

WILL OPEN BIDS

HARRISBURG, April 10.—(INS)—The General State Authority today called for bids May 3 on a major part of a proposed $8,000,000 construction program at the Somerset State hospital.

Bids were asked on a new building to house 260 disturbed patients, a boiler plant for the expanded hospital and new electrical and steam distribution systems.

More than $3,500,000 has been allocated from GSA funds to pay costs for the projects.

Somerset cares for 400 patients. This will be increased to 1,500.

Convicted Of First Degree Murder, Man Seeking New Trial

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—(INS)—Dominick Daverse, who was convicted a year ago of the first degree murder of his divorced wife, asked the state supreme court today for a new trial.

The court reserved decision.

A Westmoreland county jury which found Daverse guilty fixed the penalty at death in the electric chair.

Daverse, who did not deny that he fired six shots into the body of his ex-wife, Theresa, in front of the county court house in April, 1947, contended that he was in his right mind at the time.

His attorneys argued before the high tribunal today that Trial Judge Richard D. Laird erred in permitting witnesses to testify on the conduct of the victim.

Daverse's attorneys contended such testimony would have shown that her behavior "perverted" his mind.

Surgery To Aid Big Ear Owners

Doctor Perfects New Operation

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, April 10.—Persons with protruding or "open tabeal" type ears need no longer endure the slings and arrows of outrageous humor.

A University of Illinois plastic surgeon reported the perfection of a simple, new operation which will enable people with what he calls "outstanding ears" to quit looking like a plane about to take off.

He is Oscar J. Becker, who believes the human ear is undergoing a gradual process of "regression" and may some day disappear.

He explained that despite the conspicuous example of Clark Gable, "protruding ears" assume a clinical significance only because of the deleterious psychic effect on the patient.

And he added:

Psychic Effect
"The psychic effects of protruding ears vary with the sensitivity of the individual. A feeling of inferiority was evident, since this deformity, unlike most malformations, produces reactions of mirth in most people."

Dr. Becker observed it is a good idea—since the protruding ears can be fixed simply and satisfactorily—to correct the condition during early childhood.

Of his operative technique for the correction of protruding ears, Dr. Becker said it could be performed without anesthesia—except in the cases of young children—and involves making a sort of a "road map" of the ear's normal position.

Dr. Becker said that after the cartilage and tissue binding the ear to the skull is loosened, the ear is moved into the so-called normal position and this is marked with methylene blue—a dye.

No Scars Remain
Enough cartilage and tissue is removed to allow the ear to rest in this position and then it is stitched back tight.

With this method, he added, no marks or ridges are visible in back of the ear after it heals. The wound is healed within a week or 10 days.

Dr. Becker said that protruding ears are inherited and may be either a dominant or recessive characteristic. In rare cases, however, he declared, it may be due to a pre-birth injury. Frequently the umbilical cord may twist around the unborn child's head and cause one ear to protrude.

Towanda Man Is Seeking New Trial

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—(INS)—Paul Francis Perry, 39, of Towanda asked the state supreme court today to either grant him a new trial or set aside his conviction of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of his wife.

The court reserved decision. Perry's attorneys based his plea on his contention that he did not know his hunting rifle was loaded Jan. 30, 1949, when he pulled the trigger and shot his wife Inez, a Troy, Pa., high school teacher.

Shaw Against Legal Whipping

British Playwright
Airs Views On Matter

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, April 10.—George Bernard Shaw would rather "spare the rod" at all times and inferred that whippings are only inflicted for the whip-holder's pleasure.

The playwright, who still has barbed opinions about most things, jumped into the current debate over flogging prisoners in Britain and said that it might stop some criminals but so would boiling in oil or being broken on the rack.

He is against all the usual punishments and said that a cat-of-nine-tails never made a better man of anyone.

He was asked in an interview about the rising tide of so-called "cosh" attacks—Britain's equivalent of American "mugging"—and what should be done about it.

In Uproar For Months

Britain has been in an uproar for months about such assaults, coupled with "smash and grab" jewel and fur shop raids, most of them carried out by unemployed youths. Shaw, who will be 94 in July, said:

"Flogging makes a man furiously resentful against the punitive authority. It certainly does not make a better man of him."

"It might prove a deterrent in some cases. But so might boiling in oil or breaking on the wheel, or branding, or the rack, or burning alive, or hanging."

Shaw said scathingly that "people can think of nothing but flogging suffer from a pathological complex called flagellomania."

The playwright reminded Britons who are demanding restoration of flogging that "a wise Puritan said 300 years ago that the objection to bull-baiting was not the pain to the bull but the pleasure to the spectator."

Shaw, who throughout the years has campaigned against any form of cruelty, added:

"I am not in favor of punishment at all."

3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.

Green Endorses Idea Of Merging All Labor Unions

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(INS)—AFL President William Green today strongly endorsed the idea of merging all American unions into "one strong, well established labor organization" but avoided any commitment on the unity proposal a week ago by the CIO.

Green said in a letter to CIO President Philip Murray that the latter's plan for a "united labor committee" will be submitted to the AFL executive council for consideration at its meeting in Philadelphia May 8.

The AFL chief agreed with Murray that through unity labor "can successfully deal with the forces of reaction." He said:

"That means that one plan and one purpose should be formulated by one strong, well established labor organization."

"When several plans and policies are formulated, inspired as they may be by the same purpose on the part of those who compose and make up different labor organizations, it is difficult to unite and blend the conflicting plans into unity of purpose."

Claim Formosa Invasion Now Being Planned

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 10.—Chinese Nationalist sources at the United Nations claimed today they have obtained a fairly complete blueprint of Communist preparations for the invasion of Formosa, slated for July or August.

They declared that Communist General Lin Piao is organizing the armed blow against Chiang Kai-Shek from Amoy and Swatow, a distance of 115 and 165 miles from Formosa.

Gen. Piao is reportedly planning to build up his striking force to 300,000 men, with picked Manchurian veterans to act as a vanguard. The beaches in about the same manner that Allied troops landed in Normandy. These spearhead units are at present undergoing intensive commando training.

Naval estimates are that 200,000 tons of shipping will be required to float the Communist invasion force, of which some 100,000 tons in barges and fishing junks already are on hand.

To Divert Attention

The Nationalists say that the attention of the western nations will soon be diverted from the preparations against Formosa by a sudden invasion of Tibet. Some three scores of Russian officers are said to be occupied in drilling and organizing the invasion of Tibet under General Chu-Teh.

Communist China will use the pretext that American and British agents are scheming with the Dalai Lama against the people's republic of China.

In the meantime, the preparations against Formosa probably will develop into the first phase—the battle for air supremacy.

Nationalist planes raiding Communist military bases on the mainland henceforth must anticipate increased resistance from Communist planes.

Information available at Lake Success is that the guns and aircraft reaching Lin Piao are of Czech origin but the Chinese general is insisting on Russian fighters and bombers.

It is understood that during the Moscow talks, Mao Tse-tung asked Stalin for fifty Tupelov-70 bombers, the best Russia has yet turned out. He also requested that they be manned by Russian pilots. Late reports from the Chinese mainland, the Nationalists say, tend to bear out confidential reports that Stalin granted Mao's request for material, airforce men and submarines.

New Castle Senators Pickup Ten Players Cut Loose By Cleveland

The New Castle Senators of the Mid-Atlantic League have picked up 10 young ball players cut loose recently by the Cleveland Indians at Daytona Beach, Fla., owing to a shakeup in the Indians farm system.

Manager Charles Cronin returned to New Castle Saturday after a two-week stay in the southland and reported to the New Castle owners that Cleveland had cut loose 10 players and the he had picked them up for tryouts here.

High on Ackerman
Already signed and slated for the third base spot is young Dick Ackerman, 21, a limited service player with Green Bay, Wis., in 1948 and 1949, hitting .297 and .301, 5 feet 11 and 155 pounds.

George Becka, a pitcher, 21, with Batavia in 1940, winning 13 and losing 10 and an earned run average of 2.92, and in 1949 with Zanesville, O., 8 and 8 with an earned run average of 3.60, right-hander, 5 feet 11, 160 pounds.

James Drummer, 19, with Enterprize last year in the Class D Alabama State League, winning 7 and losing 12 with a 4.50 earned run average, right-hander.

Robert Stevenson, 21, with Enterprise last year also, a pitcher, winning 6 and losing 6 with an earned run average of 3.50, right-hander.

James Schindler, a rookie catcher, 21, throws and bats right handed and is 6 feet, 170 pounds.

Albert Dunterman, 21, a catcher with Iowa last year in the K. O. M. League, 6 feet 2 and weighs 180 pounds, hit .243 for Iowa, optioned here by Harrisburg.

Bernard Rossman, 23, a pitcher with Green Bay last year winning 9 and losing 3 with an earned run average of 4.29. Was with Mattoon the year before, winning 11 and losing 6 with an earned run average of 3.46, right-hander, 6 feet, 170 pounds.

Dean Rothrock, 24, a left-hander, with Iowa last year, 6 feet 1 and weighs 175 pounds. Last year he won 2 and lost 6.

Richard Majek, 19, a rookie catcher from Cleveland, O., sandlots, right-hand thrower and right-hand batter, 6½ feet, 185 pounds, a very fine looking prospect, a long ball hitter.

Robert Fisher, a shortstop, no record available.

Leave Next Sunday

All of the above young men will report to New Castle next Sunday or will go direct from their homes to Greencastle, Pa., where the Senators will train for two weeks.

These boys have all had a month's training at Daytona Beach.

New Castle will be ready this year when the bell rings, not like in other years when very little training was had.

The Senators will make their first home appearance Tuesday, May 2, meeting the Homestead Grays at P. J. Flaherty Memorial Field. Vandergrift opens the Mid-Atlantic League card here Friday, May 5, at 8 o'clock.

New Castle will take about 38 players to camp next Sunday.

Braves And Reds In Slugfest

Boston Wins, 15-12;
Red Sox Top Bucs

By HOWARD SIGMUND
(International News Service Staff Writer)

Free-swinging, high-scoring baseball games were as much a part of Easter Sunday as cockeyed new bonnets and colored eggs.

Pitchers paraded to the mound to exhibit their spring finery and were rudely greeted by some precision bombing on the part of holiday-celebrating sluggers.

The homeward-bound Cincinnati Reds and the Boston Braves engaged in the number one pitcher-less battle of the day. Boston won the batfest, 15 to 12, mainly on a pinch-hit grand-slam homer by Tommy Holmes. Sam Jethroe also homered for the tribe.

Senators Are Hot
The suddenly heated-up Washington Senators pounced on three Philadelphia Athletics pitchers for 16 hits, including eight doubles, a triple and a homer to eradicate the Mackmen 17 to 5. Hank Wyse, Bob Hooper and Carl Scheib were the fall guys for the Athletics.

Clyde Volmer cracked out a three run homer for the Nats.

New York's world champion Yankees nosed out the Memphis Chickies and a pitcher named Leonado Gotochea, 9 to 8. Tommy Henrich hit two homers and Joe DiMaggio, Hank Bauer, and Gene Woodling each tagged one.

Three New York Giant pitchers were rapped for a 19-hit, 12 to 6 defeat by the Cleveland Indians. Dave Koslo, Kirby Higbe and Ford Smith were belted freely by the tribe.

Allie Clark, Larry Doby, Bob Thomson and Clint Hartung unloaded for round-trippers. The Cleveland victory tied the spring series between the two teams at six wins apiece.

The dynamite squad of the Boston Red Sox went to work on the Pittsburgh Pirates and before the shooting was over the Sox had a 12 to 4 win. The B-Bombers were led by Ted Williams, who hit two homers and Dom DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr and Vern Stephens who hit one apiece.

The home run proved important in the Philadelphia Phillies' 10 to 6 victory over Fort Worth. Willie Jones, Granny Hamner (W) and Del Ennis found Texas league chukking to their liking.

Don Newcombe made an attempt to go nine innings but was routed in the sixth inning as the Brooklyn Dodgers shaded Atlanta, 9 to 7.

Max Lanier and Ellis Deal hurled the St. Louis Cardinals to a 7 to 5 win over Houston.

Detroit's Tigers bested the Chicago White Sox, 8 to 5. Hoot Evers of the Bengals and Gus Zernial of the Sox homered.

The St. Louis Browns stopped San Antonio, 8 to 2, and the Chicago Cubs beat Shreveport, 7 to 5.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

BOSTON RED SOX and Brooklyn Dodgers are picked to win the pennants in their circuits by Tim Cohan in his forecast in 'Look'. He places the Tigers, Yankees and Indians in order named behind the Red Sox the American, and Phils, Cards and Giants, second, third and fourth in the National loop. . . . Grover Cleveland Alexander, one of the greatest hurlers of yester-year, who struck out Tony Lazzeri with the bases loaded to win the 1926 World Series for the Cardinals at the expense of the Yanks, reveals in 'Sport' that he applies to the office of Commissioner Chandler for a job—in almost any capacity—and no luck. . . . The 1950 Hambletonian, with a purse estimated at $85,000, will go down as the richest trotting race in history. But the new record won't stand long. The 1951 race is expected to be worth $100,000, with 192 colts and fillies now on the eligible list. . . . George Boss of Clarence, Ont., one of the leading amateur riders in the country last year, will ride in the AMA Eastern inaugural motorcycle races at Reading, April 16. . . . American Bowling Congress will award the end of the 1949-50 bowling season the Award of Merit to the bowlers, in each city association, who score the highest three-game series and the highest single game in sanctioned league play. The latter award is made only in city association where no 300, 299 or 298 games have been reported for the season.

All champions of the 1950 ABC tournament will defend their titles at the tourney which opens April 15 at Columbus. They are: team, Jimmie Smiths, South Bend, April 30; doubles, Gene Bernhardt, Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and Donald Van Boxel, Green Bay, Wis., May 14; singles, Bernard Rusche, Cincinnati, May 18, and all-events, Johnny Small, Chicago, May 28-29. . . . Bob Feller may rack up 23 or 24 wins this season, according to Bill Veck, former Indians' owner. . . . Ellwood City Rod & Gun club meets tonight. . . . Pastebards for the Sportsman's Council banquet, Thursday night, are on sale. . . . Waterloo, Neb., has an ordinance which prohibits barbers from eating onions between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. . . . A white swan has made its nest along the Shenango river near Orangeville, probably waiting for its mate. It was there last year, but after its mate arrived, both flew away. . . . Manager Frankie Frisch of the Cubs is impressed with the pitching of Paul Minner and has assigned him a starting role. . . . Jack Thompson, Warren, O., fireman, who directs amateur and pro fighters, may abandon the amateur and concentrate all his efforts on Lallo Sabotin, who, since turning pro, has won nine of 10 fights with a knockout. He boxed here several times. . . . Joe Chip, former middleweight boxer who knocked out Al McCoy, after Al was shorn of the title, Johnny Wilson and topnotchers, spent Easter with his brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. George Chip of Phillips Place.

Major League Clubs Anxiously 'Eye' Opening Date Of Tuesday, April 18

By HOWARD SIGMUND
(International News Service Staff Writer)

Major league ball clubs are making the long voyage home from the southlands today, stopping off on the way for some additional exhibition revenue and a furtherance of their spring conditioning chores.

The get-in-the-pink movement progressed favorably on some grapefruit circuit fronts. On others the April 18 grand opening appeared much too close.

Boston's second-fiddle Red Sox determined to take all the American league marbles this season, came up with a very favorable sign yesterday. Lefty Mel Parnell, their strong-armed 25-game winner, showed he is ready and able for '50.

Parnell Ready
Parnell was the complete master as he limited the Jacksonville Tars of the Sally league to four hits and blanked them, 12 to 0. Lefty Mel, already the winningest southpaw in Bosox history, also became their first pitcher to go nine innings this spring.

Chicago White Sox fans seldom get anything to cheer about, but they may this season from Lefty Bob Kuzava.

The 26-year-old Wyandotte, Mich., outsider won 10 and lost six for the sixth place Chicagoans last year and was sought after by every club in the winter trade talks.

Robert showed why yesterday by yielding a one-hit whitewash brush for a 2-to-0 victory over Houston of the Texas league.

Giants Top Indians
Sheldon "Available" Jones became the second New York Giant pitcher to go the distance against the Cleveland Indians and beat them, 5-1.

The Pittsburgh Pirates got a good look at their $100,000 investment and poor young Paul Pettit didn't look too good. Pittsburgh slapped their bonus beauty for six runs in the first inning and then went on to beat his New Orleans mates, 10 to 7.

Another bonus baby, Johnny Antonelli of the Boston Braves, turned in some neat clutch pitching that staved off a ninth-inning rally and gave the tribe an 8-to-7 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The Detroit Tigers beat Atlanta, 7 to 5.

Pancho Hopes To Down LaBelle

Lost To Frenchman
Here February 10

It is only natural for fans to look forward to the main bout of a wrestling show to be the feature match, but in anticipating what will occur Thursday night in The Arena, one may expect as much excitement in the Pierre La Belle vs. Pancho Valentino match as will be witnessed in the main affair between Larry Kasaboski and Frederick Von Schacht.

When Pierre and Pancho wrestled February 10, Pierre used a chop, or Kancho kick, to defeat Valentino in 7½ minutes. Pierre raced toward Pancho, leaped into the air, and simultaneously struck both feet against the front of Valentino's body, and down went the "bad boy of the mat." Hoping to even up the count, Valentino secured another chance, and they'll settle the supremacy question Thursday night.

Von Schacht Husky
Von Schacht, who is scheduled to wrestle Kasaboski, 60 minutes, or to a fall, is rough and according to his bout December 14 with Don Eagle, which he lost, there wasn't a dull moment. Von is a big man, well proportioned and strong as Hercules. Just how good the Canadian is remains to be seen.

Wild Bill Coo who took his name from the famous scout and buffalo hunter, and effects an attire similar to that of Buffalo Bill, will wrestle the Grecian idol, Chris Pappas. It will be a 20 minute match, as will the Pancho-Pierre bout. The tag match will be formed from this group and no doubt it will be as exciting an exhibition as it is possible for wrestlers to brawl.

DINNER, SHOW, DISPLAYS AT FETE THURSDAY

Indications point to one of the largest crowds of men, women and young folk in the history of the Lawrence County Council of Sportsmen fete when its annual banquet is held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, in the Cathedral.

The dinner will be held in the dining room, and the vaudeville show in the auditorium. The display of outdoor sports' equipment will be seen in the ballroom.

District Attorney Clyde Shumaker of Butler county will be the principal spokesman and Judge John G. Lamoree, the toastmaster. Tickets for the banquet may be obtained at Gerson's, Gus, Mooney Sports store, Reynolds & Summers, Neilsen's, Sportsmen's Gun shop and Sporting Goods store.

There will be a door award and also awards made to the winners in the bird-house contest.

Recreation League Forms Now Available

Application blanks for teams wishing to enter the City Recreation league may be obtained from Mrs. Leah H. Dietterle, recreation board secretary, on the second floor of the City building, or from Rees Flannery, city recreation director. Application forms are to be filled out and returned to Mr. Flannery not later than April 20. Number of entries in the league is limited, however, and teams are urged to get their form in as quickly as possible.

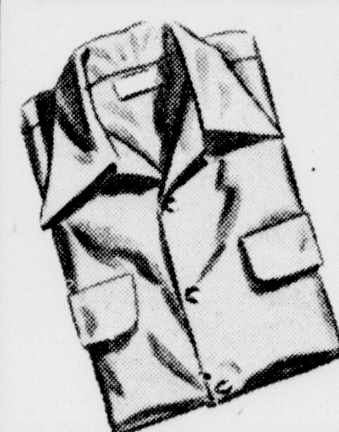

MOOSE WILL WORK OUT

Globetrotters Topped By Stars

LOS ANGELES, April 10.—(INS)—Bill Sharman, former USC star athlete, made his debut as a pro last night by assisting the College All-Stars to a 72-71 victory over the Harlem Globetrotters.

Sharman contributed 14 points to the All-Star cause in a contest in which the lead changed hands eight times and in which the count was tied on nine other occasions.

The victory tied the game count between the two teams at four all. They are to play 10 more games on a cross-country tour.

Last night's battle was staged before a packed house of 7,400 at Pan-Pacific auditorium in Los Angeles.

Sharman will switch to baseball after a brief basketball career. He recently signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Hill Prince Is Derby Favorite

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—(INS)—Hill Prince, winner of the first experimental handicap for three-year-olds, is quoted as three-to-one favorite by St. Louis oddsmaker James J. Carroll for the 1950 Kentucky Derby. The derby is scheduled this year for May 6. Carroll lists Oil Capital at 4-1, Your Host, 5-1, Middleground, 6-1, Theory, 8-1 and Guillotine, 10-1.

Indianapolis May Win Title

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 10. (INS)—The American Hockey League's Calder cup may belong to the "underdog" Indianapolis Capitals Thursday night if the Cleveland Barons don't find a way to cope with Terry Sawchuk.

Sawchuk, the chunky, 20-year-old wonder man who blocks the goal for the Caps, has been the "big man" in his team's three-game "blitz" of the favored Barons. Sawchuk has given up only 10 goals in the seven playoff games which the Caps have taken so far. Indianapolis needs only one more victory over Cleveland to sweep the series and take the loop's title.

EAGLES TO PRACTICE
Eagles 455 softball team will hold a practice at 5 o'clock tonight at Dean park. All former Pearson A. C. and Eagles members are asked to report. Future plans will be discussed following the practice.

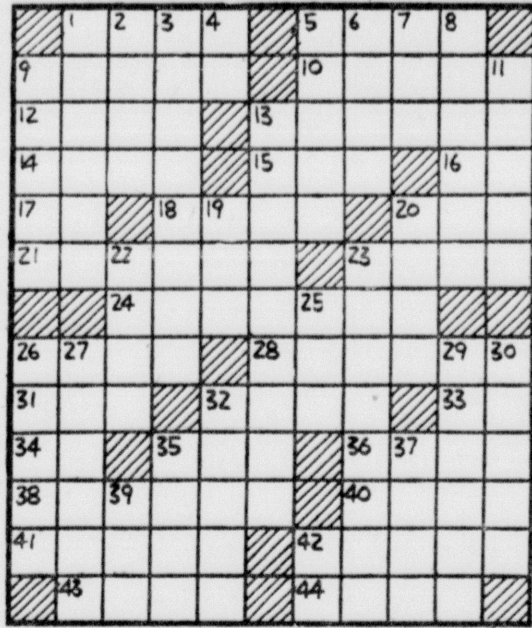

EDDIE MILLER, once ranked as the top infielder in the National league, was released by the Philadelphia Phils and quickly gobbled up by the St. Louis Cardinals who took over his reported $13,000 salary. (International)

Play Soldier, Scare Natives

California Guardsmen Prove Too Realistic

OAKLAND, Calif. April 10.—(INS)—The California National Guard's 61st Fighter Wing decided to be a little more formal the next time it begins "playing soldiers."

Personnel of the wing wrote "mission accomplished" after defending the bay area from figurative air attack recently but today there was nothing but chagrin as the bay area was not so happy about the way the wing defended it.

Employers were startled, defense officials were galvanized into action, city officials were baffled and a lot of residents were frightened.

Emergency Flash

It all started when the fighter wing at Oakland airport flashed the signal for an emergency drill. Phone operators in the unit ordered the telephone company to "clear all lines" and put in 900 rush calls to officers and men.

Personnel rushed off the job, some leaving a grim phrase—"I've been called to duty"—in their wake.

Two C-47 transports went into the air to play "enemy."

The Western Air Defense force almost believed they were an enemy until its radar operators got the belated "word." And Fighter Wing 61 dispatched 12 P-51 fighters to "intercept."

They should have "fought" the transports high in the sky but a low ceiling brought the dogfights down to 4,000 feet over San Francisco's Golden Gate park. By that time "official channels" in the entire area were in an uproar.

Blame It On Weather

When everything quieted down National Guard officers explained that personnel of the wing should have told their startled employers they were subject to practice calls.

They agreed that other defense units in the area should have been notified.

But they blamed the weather in part for forcing the planes down into view and sound of the citizenry.

Said Lt. Col. Frederick H. Nelson, intelligence officer of the Fighter Wing:

"We were just out playing soldier. With the talk of submarines off the coast, and such things I guess people just got excited."

Predicts Next War Will Begin In 1953

LONDON, April 10.—(INS)—Dr. Adam Rutherford, fellow of British Royal Geographical Society and president of the Institute of Pyramidology, predicts the next war will begin in 1953.

"Russia will play a big part in the war," said Dr. Rutherford, who studies the Egyptian pyramids, "and she will be more completely crushed than was Germany. America and Britain will come through."

Three babies died for every two soldiers killed in action during the World War II period.
